About five acres of fine wheat was burned on Brannon Island, on the ranch of Hart Smith, and had it not been for the promptness of the neighbors, who turned out in force, some 300 acres would have been consumed. The fire occurred on the Fourth, and was caused by firecrackers.

Ubelbeis is the euphonious name of a new mineral district located about 20 miles east from Cerro Gordo, by W. L. and J. B. Hunter, Thos. McDonough and J. I. Porter. One of its principal and quite remarkable features is an enormous copper ledge 80 feet in width which assays from 15 to 67 per cent—the whole averaging 24 per cent.

The Yugo Independent of Saturday says: Judging from a view of the crops taken while passing several ranches, we think that the prospects are, on the whole, very promising. Barley is ripening rapidly and wheat in favored spots will be ready for harvest in a few days. Thrashing-machine men are preparing for operation and will be in the field next week. Corn has this year been rather backward and should this section be visited with early Autumn frosts, there will be a light crop.

FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1875.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Lee, the leader of the Mountain Meadow Massacre, pleads not guilty and asks for a postponement of trial.

At a Cabinet meeting held yesterday it was determined that District Attorney Fisher should be removed if he did not resign.

A large quantity of arms belonging to Cortinas, the Mexican raider, has been seized by Col. Custer.

The Carlists deny that their troops have entered France.

From Munich we learn the Ultramontane Baron Deschen has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment for a treasonable speech made by him in October, 1873.

Hersiegle, the editor of the Ultramontane Journal Valentin, was sent to prison to serve a ten month's sentence for treasonable utterances.

Secretary Delano has issued an order that all persons are to be excluded from the Black Hills until negotiations with the Indians are concluded.

The Assistant Treasurer yesterday opened bids for one million bond. Bids to the amount of nearly four million were offered.

The telegraph announces the failure of two large Eastern firms.

E. J. Johnson, a Florida Revenue Collector, was shot and probably mortally wounded yesterday.

An explosion took place yesterday morning at Iowa City, Iowa, killing five men and destroying $20,000 worth of property.

An explosion took place in Newark, Ohio, killing five or six persons.

SENATOR BOOTH is in favor of passing the question as to the legality of BIDWELL's right to his 23,000 acre farm and conceding him the owner.

This is all very well so far as BOOTH is concerned. He is pretty well off and BIDWELL is quite rich. But suppose the issue involved 100 acres of land held under a doubtful title by some poor man, would the Senator be so ready to dismiss the case?

The fact is that BIDWELL has no more right to hold 23,000 acres of land to which he has no legal title than a poor man has to illegally hold 100 acres, or the San Vicente ranch owners to hold four leagues when the original grant was for but one and one-half leagues.

We believe that any man has a right to all the land he buys and pays for, be that one acre or one million acres; but no man, be he rich or poor, has a right to maintain possession of land to which he has not obtained a legal title.

It is both new and gratifying to the people of Los Angeles to read the latest telegrams in their local papers. Thanks to the energy and enterprise of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company the HERALD is now enabled to lay before its readers telegrams from all parts of the world on the same morning they appear in the New York Herald and the San Francisco Chronicle.

These dispatches are not given in mutilated fragments but complete and in detail. There is now no necessity for taking a San Francisco paper in order to obtain full telegraphic news. For many months past the circulation of the HERALD has largely exceeded—perhaps doubled that of any other paper published in this State, South of San Francisco, and now that its columns contain full telegrams bearing date up to the hour of going to press which is three o'clock in the morning, we may reasonably expect that our already large circulation will be doubled in a short time.

No Party Ticket.

EDITOR HERALD: As yours is the most independent paper published in Southern California, I take the liberty of asking you a question which I trust you will answer. Why is it that the Federal officeholders of this county stand aloof from the party and show a disposition to affiliate with one or the other of the parties that are opposed to the administration under which they hold their appointments? Do they intend to propose to assist in the destruction of the party out of which they live? If in its days of adversity the Democratic party had been made up of such men it would have ceased to exist. Those men who stood by Republican principles during the infancy of the party were different Republicans from those who now manifest a disposition to break up that organization by acting with the enemies of the Administration.

Los Angeles, July 24, 1875. REPUBLICAN.

In one of our exchanges we noticed a few days ago an article which embodied nearly the same sentiments as those expressed by "Republican." There does not appear to be that disposition among the rank and file of the Republican party—among those who are Republicans from principle—to abandon the organization that is seen among those who hold office under the Administration. The Republican masses are sincere in their convictions, and hold to principles which they believe to be honest and true. Besides this there is a universal desire among pure Republicans to keep up their organization in every State and county in order to be ready for the Presidential election of next year. The Independent party has no national existence; indeed, it is hardly known outside of California, and in this fact alone Republicans recognize the utter futility of battering their condition by going over to a faction which has no principles except abuse and villification of Democrats and Republicans. With Federal officeholders—some of them, at least—the sentiment may be different. They may not be so strongly imbued with genuine Republican principles, and it is possible that they were only induced to become Republicans from pecuniary motives. The lassitude and indifference which is apparent among the gentlemen holding Federal offices in this county has attracted attention in certain quarters, but we are inclined to think it is not as great as represented. There are a number of active Republicans among them, and we are led to believe that it is their purpose to co-operate with the members of the party in the county who do not hold office and in due time place in the field a Republican county ticket. This will ensure a maintenance of organization and place the Republicans of Los Angeles county in condition to open the Presidential campaign next Summer with discipline and strength. We trust they will do this, as we like to see the Democratic candidates have a good strong opposition, and nothing of the kind can be expected from the now badly disorganized Independent faction.

A Little Back Talk.

From time to time the Evening Express has indulged in coarse, not to say ungentlemanly, language toward the HERALD, and last evening that paper says in plain Saxon that we have lied about Santa Monica. The assertions of the Jonesville organ do not go for much in this community, but we are willing to argue this question of lying about Santa Monica. It is clear that either the Express or HERALD has lied like a pickpocket relative to Jonesville and its suburbs. Let us examine the circumstances:

The Express has the reputation, whether true or not, of being the paid tool and advocate of the Santa Monica lot speculators, while the HERALD has earned and maintains the reputation of being an independent people's organ, uninfluenced by ring or clique. This is the condition of the two papers. This being the case, we will proceed to the subject of Santa Monica and read the indictments on which we arraign the Express, and as that paper lets itself down to the fish-woman style of language, we hope it will not take offense if we imitate its example and hurl back the word "lie" in the same shape that we find it in its columns.

We believe that the several assertions we shall repeat have all been endorsed by the Express. First—It is a lie that Santa Monica can have 20,000 people in three years. Second—It is a lie that Santa Monica will have 400,000 people in ten years. Third—It is a lie that Santa Monica has the natural harbor advantages with San Pedro. Fourth—It is a lie that an abundance of fresh water can or ever will be supplied to the Santa Monica ranch. Fifth—It is a lie that the Santa Monica or San Vicente ranches will produce grain or other vegetation without irrigation. Sixth—It is a lie that the pine trees and onions shown to expectant lot buyers grew where they were pointed out. Seventh—It is a lie that the title to a part of the Santa Monica ranch is not in dispute. Eighth—It is a lie that the San Vicente ranch comprises four leagues. Ninth—It is a lie that Los Angeles is not the commercial city of Southern California. Tenth—It is a lie that the HERALD has, either by word or deed, opposed the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad. Each of these things we have branded as a lie the Express has asserted and advocated, and the HERALD has denied and opposed. We repeat that one of these papers has lied like a pickpocket, and we are willing that the people shall decide which is the subsidized hireling and which the honest, independent journal.

Wilmington Items.

[From the Enterprise, July 22.]

A schooner is now lying at the wharf discharging railroad lumber.

The weather has been unusually warm during the past week, the mercury rising as high as 88°.

Mr. Taffie informs us that the engine of the furniture establishment will probably be fired up next Saturday. Full operations will begin early in August.

Mr. Wm. Oman, who is now hauling hay to town, informs us that there is about a two-thirds crop in the valley, and that the quality is very superior.

Our public-spirited merchant, Nathan Jacoby, who believes in patronizing home institutions, now illuminates his store with San Fernando coal oil. He says it makes a better light than the Pennsylvania oil which he has heretofore shipped from San Francisco.

We took dinner with a family in Wilmington last Sunday, upon whose table we saw all the vegetables of the season, which grew on dry land where the water is at least twenty-five feet below the surface of the ground. These vegetables were carefully cultivated, but had never been watered.

We counted thirteen good-sized watermelons the other day, growing on one vine in Colonel Wilson's garden. This is a volunteer, and has never received the least attention. As the vine is green and fresh and full of blossoms and tiny melons, we have no doubt it will continue to produce until late in the Fall—perhaps even later than that.

Work on the bar during the past week has been very satisfactory. The dredger has passed the apex of the reef, and the water now has a depth of not less than seven feet at low tide at any point on the bar. The indications are that the sweep of the tide-water will hereafter do more work than the dredger.

We hope that Senator Jones will carry out to the fullest extent, his determination to test the farming capacity of his mesa lands. No doubt thorough cultivation will disclose facts concerning the uplands that will surprise everybody. Besides, as we have before said, a thorough test of these lands will be a general benefit to the county. There is a large area of it in this valley. Col. Wilson has made a few experiments on land around Wilmington, (without irrigation) with water 25 feet below the surface, and the result has been wonderful.

Judge Baker of Bossier Parish, Louisiana, has notified Governor Kellogg that there have been nine murders in that Parish in the past fifty days, and that the law is powerless. The police in command of Cathala Parish have called on the Governor for assistance in arresting several fugitive murderers of that Parish.

Spirited Discussion.

LONDON, July 22.—In the House of Commons, this afternoon, Disraeli abandoned the Merchant-Shiping bill for this session. He expressed the hope that the session would be closed by the 10th or 12th of August, and possibly earlier. Pimball followed with a speech, in which he vigorously attacked the Government, saying that the consequences of the abandonment of the bill will be the destruction of thousands of lives. He spoke vehemently and excitedly, and used the most extraordinary epithets, stamps and feet and gesticulated wildly, starting the House in an uproar. Disraeli moved that Pimball be removed from the House. The Speaker told him to withdraw, and he went out shaking his fists at the Government Bench, and the House then considered the action and thought it proper to take some steps in regard to Pimball's conduct. Several speakers urged his excitability as an excuse for his offense. Debate on the subject was adjourned till Thursday next.

In the House this evening, Lord Hamilton, Secretary of State for India, refused to submit to a correspondence regarding the difficulties with Burma, but said they would be amicably settled.

It is rumored that there will be fresh trouble in the House when the motion is made to abandon the Merchant-Shiping bill. This afternoon Pimball earnestly implored the Government not to send one thousand people to their graves through the conduct of the ship builders. Upon being called to order he gave notice that he would ask, on Thursday next, if vessels which had entailed great sacrifice of human life did not belong to Mr. Bates, a member of Parliament. He added that he was determined to unmask this villainy.

Present, Councilmen Leahy, Huber, Workman, Lichtenberger, Teed, Mascarel, Mullally, Carmona and Robinson.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Mayor's weekly report was read; fines, $104 15; sales of city lots, $517 50; fees deducted, $57. Placed on file.

An ordinance granting a water franchise to J. W. Potts, on the Mott tract and Canal and Reservoir lands, for 25 years, was read.

Mayor Beaudry received permission to address the Council and called Mr. Robinson to the chair. He opposed the granting of the franchise on the Mott tract, which he had supplied with water, increasing the value of lands from $24 to $1,000 per acre. The Mayor hoped the Council would not do this injustice to him, who had the enterprise to lay pipes at an enormous expense, and in opposition to the water works. He hoped he would be protected.

Mr. Teed thought that if Mr. Potts failed to get this franchise, there must be something wrong. He was opposed to exclusive franchises such as existed now, where men had to pay a bonus of $100 for water.

Mr. Workman moved that the Council resolve itself into a committee and visit the proposed site next Monday at 3 P. M. and ascertain the status of the question, and report at next meeting. Carried.

Music at Wilmington.

The concert of the Presbyterian Church at Wilmington, last week, was successful in netting a large sum. In the Enterprise we found the following testimonial to our Los Angeles musical talent: "Professor Havell sang and played and exhibited his wonderful versatility in making himself generally and promiscuously useful. Professor Arrevalo, who is well known in Southern California as a guitarist, gave the audience some most beautiful exhibitions of his exquisite touch. Mendel Meyer played his violin with a master hand, and we know all were charmed with the many soft, dreamy, inspiring notes which were elicited by his magic touch. And last, though not least by any means, the audience were indebted to Miss Rachel Edelman for several charming songs. Her piquant, graceful, self-possessed manner at once placed her in sympathy with the audience, and she held her magic away throughout all her performances. Miss Edelman gave us all a most agreeable surprise, as this young lady has often visited Wilmington, but has heretofore concealed her charming talent."

FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1875.

The Wheeler Expedition.

One of the members of the Wheeler expedition, at present encamped near Los Angeles, writes to the New York Graphic as follows:

The accompaniment of the several parties of the expedition is nearly complete. The material of outfit is being issued and divided. The topographer receives his transit, the meteorologist his barometer, the botanist his plant press, the collector his net and gun, the cook his mess kit, and the blacksmith his iron. Six years of experience in this very peculiar work has enabled the leaders of the expedition to perfect an outfit which is lacking in no item necessary for a successful season in the field. The contents of the property tent are more varied than those of a country store. The genius of invention is constantly kept alert for improvements in instruments, books, method and the implements of the camp and the march. Provision is made for every emergency which may arise, and that long row of water kegs looks especially ominous, for it gives prophesy of many a dry camp in the unexplored deserts.

Lieutenant Bergland is the first to start from here. His portion is the broad Mojave desert and the vicinity of the Colorado river, including portions of Nevada and Arizona. Lieutenant Birnie will investigate the mysteries of the Death valley, a fearful desert below the level of the sea, between whose borders there is no life, either of animal or plant, and at the mention of whose name the oldest guides quail and say: "If a jack rabbit were to go across Death valley he would have to pack his grub with him." Two parties, one under the personal direction of Lieutenant Wheeler and one with Lieutenant Whipple in command, will work around and in the southern end of the Sierra Nevada range. The natural history corps of Dr. Rothrock, of the army, botanist, will range along the coast and in the valleys north of here. Dr. Loew, chemist and mineralogist, will accompany Lieutenant Bergland, and will investigate the mines around Panamint. Professor Marcon, geologist, is to examine and report the results pursued by Lieutenant Whipple. This field is a familiar one to Mr. Marcon, who traversed this Western country many years ago as a member of the expedition of Lieutenant Whipple. He is a geologist and ranks among the first of the explorers of the southern territories. Already much valuable work has been done. Dr. Kamp, astronomer, has measured and developed a base line which is preliminary to a system of triangulation, which he is extending far eastward into the mountains. Dr. Yarrow, of the army, and the scientific corps under his direction, are deep and dusty in ethnological burrowings at Santa Barbara, on the coast. Here they have unearthed a real bonanza of antiquities. Relics of a strange and extinct people, ornaments and utensils of stone, shell, and bone have been exhumed by the ton; and yet the work goes on.

In Colorado and New Mexico the departments of Lieutenant Marshall, Morrison and Carpenter—all under the direction of Lieutenant Wheeler, have taken the field, and the work of the expedition this year promises to be greater than ever before.

True to the Character.

"I say, girls," said a little blue-eyed flaxen-haired boy on Second street yesterday, "let me take your candy and we'll all play chicken."

"Is it nice?" inquired a half dozen six-year-olds in chorus.

"Nice!" you bet it is. Let me show you. Now I'll lay the candy down here on the step, and you all go up there and come when you hear me call like a rooster."

The girls retreated and gathered in a group about fifteen feet on, while the boy got on his knees, with his head over the candy, and began to call and strut and flap his arms like a rooster's wings.

"Cluck, cluck, rat, rat, rap, cluck," and all the girls came running up and bent to pick up the candy, when the little fellow opened his mouth and took it all in at one gulp.

"Oh, you mean boy," they cried, "you have taken all our candy."

"That's cause I played rooster," said the boy, "roosters always call the hens up when he finds a grain of corn, and then picks it up himself."

A Rumor about Moulton.

[Brooklyn Review, July 6th.]

A representative of the Review had an interview last night with Frank Moulton, as he was en route to Naragansett.

What do you think about the result? quoth the journalist.

"I think this," he said, "that there's a pretty square issue between Henry Ward Beecher and myself. One or the other of us is a perjurer, and ought to be in a perjurer's cell in the State Prison."

"That's a question you think insufficiently decided by the late disagreement," queried the interviewer.

"It's a question I intend to have decided before I die," replied Moulton, with a dark frown. "I have been to the District Attorney's office to challenge an indictment, and I am afraid without any prospect of it. Last night Beecher stood in the only pulpit he can occupy in America. He will stand in it again to-morrow. But if I live and he lives another year, one of us will be a convicted perjurer and occupy a perjurer's cell. Tilton's struggle with Beecher was his own—not mine. He had to contend with obstacles. He had condoned his wife's fault, and in this world such magnanimity is shameful. The consequence was that all his witnesses suffered. But this is now my battle, and I mean to fight it to the end. I say again that either Beecher or I will fill a perjurer's cell before this is finished."
